

300 WORD ARGUMENTATIVE ESSAY STRUCTURE

INTRODUCTION

In this essay I am going to explain the structure of writing a good argumentative essay or composition in English. The style of this essay can be used for any subject. I will divide the main body of the text into three paragraphs.

MAIN BODY

The first paragraph will be about my most important point or argument. I will explain it clearly in about two or three sentences giving evidence, if possible, to support the point I am making. If there is an obvious contra argument to my main point, I will also mention it in this paragraph. I will try to finish the paragraph with a clear link to the central theme or question; in this case, how to structure and argumentative essay.

SECOND PARAGRAPH

In the second paragraph I will write about my next strongest argument. If possible, I will make it flow naturally from what I said in the first paragraph. It will follow the same basic format as the first paragraph with explanation, evidence, and a link to the main theme.

THIRD PARAGRAPH

In the third paragraph I might go into more detail about the key contra arguments, stating why I disagree with them. This will show that I fully understand the opposite point of view. The final sentence of this paragraph should clearly relate to the main theme and lead naturally to my concluding paragraph.

CONCLUSION

This is a simple way to write a B1/B2 level argumentative essay in under 300 words. The first line of this concluding paragraph states my opinion. I then summarise the main points I have made about clarity and structure to demonstrate why my conclusion flows logically from the arguments that have been given in the main body of the essay.
